VETIQ® Stool Repel Product Sheet

Coprophagia is a condition whereby puppies and dogs consume their stools. It is a common habit in some dogs which can be distressing for the pet owner and unhygienic for the pet. VETIQ® Stool Repel tablets have been specially formulated to help deter this behaviour by making the dog's own stools unpalatable to eat.

VETIQ® Stool Repel contains Capsicum Extract, a lachrymatory agent, which helps to deter a puppy or dog from eating its own stools by causing a mild irritation to the eyes and a mild burning sensation if the stool is eaten. The probiotics support stabilisation of the gut flora and digestion while the prebiotic helps stimulate the immune system by supporting growth of the intestinal microflora.
